Ed
La chitarra nella musica jazz

Verhoeff

Guitar player Ed Verhoeff (1966) belongs to the top jazz guitarists of the "new generation" in the Netherlands. Ed started out playing guitar in various pop and blues bands. He then studied at the conservatories of Utrecht and The Hague where jazz-music really sparked something in him. The continuous challenge of this boundless music has always kept his fascination and is still growing up till now. Today Ed finds himself in the jazz and world-music circuit.

Through his career of more than 25 years Ed has developed himself to be a versatile guitarist with a very personal and expressive sound. His versatility, his intuitive, sensitive and at times powerful playing makes him a wanted musician who has cooperated or still cooperates with a.o. Hein van de Geyn's Baseline, the Paul Berner Band (with Peter Thieuis and Hans van Oosterhout), John Abercrombie, Philip Catherine, Alex Acuna, Andy Narell, Gerard Presencer, Rick Margitza, Ivan Lins, Lincoln Goines, Martin Verdonk, Izaline Calister, Lilian Vieira's (Zuco103) Samba Soul, the Metropole Orchestra and such Dutch celebrities as Mathilde Santing and Ramses Shaffy. In 2002 Ed also started his own projects: THE ED VERHOEFF BAND, ED VERHOEFF EDITION and THE AMSTERDAM JAZZ TRIO. There are 4 CD's on his account. Ed composed most of the repertoire. Furthermore Ed can be heard on over 30 CD's.
